ASSERTED THAT HE BROKE JAIL

Steven Henley, Who Disappeared Today Declared That he Escaped in Terre Haute Recently.

WAS REWARD FOR HIS RTEURN

Failed in Attempt to Steal Watch, Money and Clothes Belonging to Gibson Ross.

A workman, who has passed under the name of Steven Henley, and who has been employed by the Adams Brothers Construction Company on the streets here, disappeared from the Ross boarding house this morning, stealing some money belonging to Gibson Ross. According to the man's own assertion, he is one of the seventeen prisoners who broke jail in Terre Haute a few weeks ago and for the return of whom a reward has been offered. The police did not get word of the theft until the man had had time to leave the city and they are at a loss to know where to look for him.

The man has been working here only a few weeks and has been staying at the Ross boarding house. Yesterday he did not work and spent the day around the saloon. That he intended to steal Gibson Ross' watch, money and clothes is evidenced by the fact that he carried them all away yesterday. He put young Ross' clothes on under his own and left the house. There was a large amount of money in the clothes as well as the boy's watch, which he held worth a good sum of money.

It seems that whiskey got the bet- of Henley and he was under the influence of it most of last night. To several different men he asserted that he was a member of the gang who escaped from the Terre Haute jail several weeks ago. He told others that he was the last of the gang to be rounded up, but that they would never get him behind the bars again. He said that there was a large reward for his arrest.

While Henley was out on a spree Gibson Ross discovered his loss. Henley, instead of attempting to get away after stealing the money, watch and clothes, sneaked back to the Ross house late last night and slept in his bed according to his usual custom. The proprietors of the boarding house suspected him and found the clothes and watch, taking them out of his room. It seems that Henley succeeded in getting away with some of the money.

This morning Henley was up bright and early and had escaped before anyone about the house arose. He evidently was sober enough this morning to suspicion that he was suspected and he took a short course out of Rushville. The police were called this morning to investigate but have no idea as to whether or not Henley's story concerning the escape from jail is true.

The program will consist of several readings, vocal and instrumental music.

KNOCK-OUT ENDS JEALOUS QUARREL

T. A. Williams Hands Joe Woods a Hard Punch in the Face For Insulting Young Woman.

FINED ONE DOLLAR AND COSTS

T. A. Williams, a horse trainer, pleaded guilty this morning before Squire Kratzer to assault and battery on Joe Woods and was fined one dollar and costs amounting in all to $9.75. Williams, it is said, had trouble with Woods over a young woman of this city and had taken a great deal of talk from him. Woods, it seems was jealous and things came to a climax when he saw Williams taking her to a picture show last night. Williams claims that Woods insulted the girl and this prompted him to strike him which he did in front of the Lytle drug store. Woods was knocked down and suffered considerably from the blow. He filed an affidavit against Williams and the fine was paid. The quarrel had been brewing for several days and the police say Woods got all that was coming to him.

FIRST STREET GOESSAMEROUTE

Petition to Pave With Brick is Dismissed by Commissioners as Was Perkins Petition.

LACK OF QUALIFIED SIGNERS

Attorneys Prepare to Appeal Both
Questions to Circuit Court—
May go Higher.

Both of the petitions to pave parts of Perkins, Sixth and Seventh streets and First street will be fought out in the circuit court is the assertion of attorneys for the petitioners who left their names on the petition and who are still in favor of the improvement. This morning the commissioners heard the argument on the First street petition and granted the prayer of the withdrawing petitioners, dismissing the petition.

The appeal in both cases will be taken on the theory that the petitioners in each instance had no right to withdraw after the petition had once been filed in the auditor's office. The people who still want the street believe that they will get a decision in the higher courts. It is not improbable to predict that the case will eventually go to the Supreme court of Indiana. The remaining petitioners also allege through their attorneys that it was not within the jurisdiction of the county board of commissioners to dismiss the petitions even after they had held that the petitioners had a right to withdraw their names.

Yesterday the argument in the Perkins street matter was heard and consumed most of the day. It was found that there were only fifty names left on the petition after the sixty-seven were granted the right to withdraw by the commissioners. It was found that a few of the fifty could not qualify as petitioners and the number of signers was reduced to a number below fifty. The law requires that there shall be fifty freeholders on the petition before it is considered by them.

The argument on the First street petition was postponed until this morning, attorneys for either side asserting that they could show that they were right. This morning proved that the withdrawing petitioners were in the right and that the remaining petitioners were in the wrong. It was shown that there were eighty-nine signers to the original petition and that thirty of that number wished to withdraw, which left fifty-nine. The attorneys for the withdrawing petitioners proved that sixteen of the remaining fifty-nine could not qualify, which left forty-three, not enough to cause action by the commissioners.

From the action which the commissioners took this morning, it is evident that Tuesday, June 6, will be a very busy day in commissioners' court. At that time bids will be let on two highways and seven bridges. They are as follows: Henry W. Beckner road on the Posey-Jackson township line; James E. Caldwell road in Jackson township; Poppoon bridge in Washington township; Righter bridge in Ripley township; Hatfield arch in Washington township; Foust bridge No. 1 in Ripley township; Miller bridge in Walker township; Foust bridge No. 2 in Ripley township, and the Hugh Logan bridge in Richland township.

The commissioners went to a point near the Decatur-Rush county line on the Charley Davis pike to inspect a bridge that has been repaired. They returned shortly after dinner and spent the remainder of the afternoon finishing up minor business.

JAMES PEA MUST SERVE SENTENCE

Judge Blair Revokes Parole and he Will be Taken to Jeffersonville
Tomorrow.

TWO TO FOURTEEN YEAR TERM

Has Been Under Suspended Sentence
Since October, 1909—Shot at His Half Brother.

Alonzo Blair this afternoon revoked James Pea's parole which means that Pea must go to the reformatory at Jeffersonville for a term of from two to fourteen years. It is probable that Sheriff Bebout will take Pea to Jeffersonville tomorrow. Pea, it will be remembered, is the man who assaulted Lige Pea two weeks ago last Saturday night, when, it was charged, he dropped a brick on Pea's head, badly injuring him.

Young Pea has been under suspended sentence to the reformatory since October, 1909. It may be remembered that on July Fourth, 1909, Pea shot at his half-brother, Charles Bell. Pea was arrested and bound over to the grand jury on a charge of shooting with intent to kill. The grand jury in the October term of court returned an indictment against him and he was sentenced to a term of two to fourteen years in the reformatory. The sentence was revoked by Judge Sparks, however, and the parole agent has been investigating Pea's actions since that time.

When young Pea was arrested for assaulting Lige Pea, he was taken before Mayor Black where he was fined one dollar and costs and ten days in jail. His time would have expired today. William Laurimore of Muncie, parole agent for this district, was in this city yesterday and recommended to the court that Pea's parole be revoked and that he be sent to prison to serve the term.

Yesterday afternoon Pea was taken before the court, but he pleaded with tears in his eyes for mercy from the court. Judge Blair ordered him back to jail and decided to investigate the case on his own accord. This afternoon he decided that Pea should go to the reformatory and acted in that manner.

RUSSELL TITSWORTH THIRD

Mistake in Grades Gives Him Higher Rank.

County Superintendent C. M. George in giving out the grades in the eighth year examinations recently held, made a slight mistake in placing Lewis Kirkpatrick of Center township with the third highest grade. The third place should have gone to Russell Titsworth of Noble township, who had a grade of 95.7. This will place the Kirkpatrick boy in fourth place. The educational day exercises will be held June 14 at two o'clock, but the place has not been decided.

PREPARE FOR TRIAL.

Greenfield Republican: Preparations are being made for the trial of Daniel M. Williams who is charged in grand jury indictments with grand larceny and burglary. The cases are set for May sixteenth and the clerk has been instructed by the court to issue subpoenas for Vance Derry at Jeffersonville and Cordia Martin at Michigan City to have them brought here on behalf of the State as witnesses in the above trials.

FARM TEAM RUNS AWAY

Louis Fisher Rendered Unconscious
While Working in Field.

Louis Fisher, a prominent farmer residing east of Blue Ridge, was painfully hurt in an accident Wednesday afternoon, says the Shelbyville Democrat. While breaking ground for corn his horses became unmanageable and in trying to control them he was pulled from his plow and knocked senseless. At first it was feared he was badly hurt and a call was sent to this city for a physician, but later the physician was informed it would not be necessary for him to make the trip as Mr. Fisher soon recovered. He sustained no broken bones, but was severely bruised about the body.

REPORTS THEFT OF GOLD WATCH

Miss Laura Hilligoss Calls Police, Believing That Valuable Article
Had Been Stolen.

JUST DISCOVERS LOSS TODAY

Miss Laura Hilligoss, who resides with Mr. and Mrs. V. C. Bodine at 411 North Perkins street, discovered this morning that a valuable gold watch belonging to her had been stolen. The police were called this morning and investigated the story but could not determine what has become of the valuable article. Miss Hilligoss does not remember of having seen the watch for several days and told the police that it might have been gone some time before she discovered the loss. The members of the family have been cleaning house for the last few days and it is possible that the watch may have been misplaced although Miss Hilligoss is not inclined to believe that, since she has made a very careful search. Miss Hilligoss' name in full was engraved in the back of the watch and it will be a hard matter for the person who stole it, if that be the case, to dispose of it here. The members of the family do not recall that they have heard burglars at any time recently.

PUT ALL MEN IN HUSBAND'S CLASS

Sallie Carter, in Speaking of Henry,
a Rough Man, Always Said
"Like Men Will."

MUST NOT MARRY FOR 2 YEARS

Sallie Carter, a colored domestic, testifying in her own divorce suit in the circuit court this afternoon, was disposed to place all men in the class with her husband, Henry Carter, whom she left because he got drunk and would not support her, according to the testimony. In speaking of her husband's actions, Mrs. Carter invariably inserted the clause "like men will." She testified that repeatedly her husband was rough and uncouth and did not act nice when he was at home. She declared that her husband went to Cincinnati with Jessie Dillon. She also said that he had cursed her and spent all of his money for booze. She was granted a divorce and was ordered not to marry for two years. George Young, was her attorney, and Prosecutor O'Neil appeared for the State.

DYNAMITE BOXES CAUSES CONCERN

One Hundred Pounds of Explosives
Has Been Shipped to Unknown Man Near Fountaintown.

HAS NEVER BEEN CALLED FOR

Coincidence in Fact That it Was Unloaded on Day J. J. McNamara
Was Arrested.

In light of the recent investigation by the Burns detective agency and subsequent arrest of three men who are charged with dynamiting the Los Angeles Times building and other structures, the discovery that dynamite has been shipped into a small community to an unknown man is just cause for concern. Such is the case in the village of Carrollton, a small place near Fountaintown on the C. H. & D. between here and Indianapolis.

On Saturday, April 22, four boxes, addressed to L. E. Davis, Carrollton, were unloaded at Fountaintown, as there is no station at Carrollton. No person by that name could be located in that vicinity and the freight agent became suspicious. He investigated and found that each box contained twenty-five pounds of dynamite. Another thing which aroused the suspicions of the agent was the fact that the freight bill did not contain the consignee's name. The matter was referred to the general freight agent of the company. The freight bill is dated Indianapolis, Ind., April 21, 1911.

There is a strange coincidence in the fact that the boxes of dynamite were unloaded at Fountaintown on the same day that John J. McNamara, secretary and treasurer of the structural iron workers association, was arrested in Indianapolis, charged with complicity in the Los Angeles horror. Various opinions have been expressed in that vicinity and it can not be determined what dynamiters would care to blow up in that neighborhood.

EXPECTED JURY WILL DISAGREE

After Being Out Over an Hour a Verdict Had Not Been Returned in Oneal-Gowdy Case.

IS OVER A GASOLINE ENGINE

At four o'clock this afternoon it seemed that the jury in the case of Oneal Brothers against John K. Gowdy for $115 on an account, would hang as they had been out over an hour at that time and had not yet returned a verdict. The local firm sued Mr. Gowdy for payment for a gasoline engine and jack-pump. It was brought out in the evidence that Mr. Gowdy was to have the engine on a ninety days trial and that he would be allowed to return it if it did not work to his entire satisfaction. He declares that it was of no value whatever. On the other hand the plaintiffs' witnesses testified that on one occasion when they were called to repair it they found rags and other debris was clogging the mechanism. At another time they testified that coal oil was in the tank where gasoline should have been. Mr. Gowdy explained that by the fact that an Arlington merchant switched cans on him, putting coal oil in the gasoline tank.

DECLARES KILLING WAS AN ACCIDENT

Officers Discredit Wealthy Farmer's Story.

Fowler, Ind., May 4.—John W. Poole, the wealthy Benton county farmer in jail here, accused by his son Emory of the murder of Joseph Kemper, a German laborer employed on the farm a year ago last December, admitted to Sheriff Shackleton and Marshal Bowman that he had killed Kemper, but that the killing was accidental.

Poole told the sheriff and marshal that on the Sunday of the killing he was climbing over the fence at the back of his house with a shotgun in his hand, being in pursuit of a rabbit running across the yard. Kemper, he says, was standing near. Poole declared that in getting over the fence the gun was discharged and that the full charge from the gun blew off Kemper's head.

This part of Poole's story is discredited by Sheriff Shackleton, who declares that all indications point to the fact that Kemper was murdered in the kitchen of the Poole home. As to Charles Clark and Charles Mack, two other farm employees who are missing and believed by many to have been slain by Poole, the accused man declared he knew nothing. He said they had left his place of their own free will and he had not heard from them since. This same explanation was previously given as to Kemper, Sheriff Shackleton said.

WELCOME WORDS TO WOMEN

Women who suffer with disorders peculiar to their sex should write to Dr. Pierce and receive free the advice of a physician of over 40 years' experience—a skilled and successful specialist in the diseases of women. Every letter of this sort has the most careful consideration and is regarded as sacredly confidential. Many sensitively modest women write fully to Dr. Pierce what they would shrink from telling to their local physician. The local physician is pretty sure to say that he cannot do anything without "an examination." Dr. Pierce holds that these distasteful examinations are generally needless, and that no woman, except in rare cases, should submit to them.

Dr. Pierce's treatment will cure you right in the privacy of your own home. His "Favorite Prescription" has cured hundreds of thousands, some of them the worst of cases. It is the only medicine of its kind that is the product of a regularly graduated physician. The only one good enough that its makers dare to print its every ingredient on its outside wrapper. There's no secrecy. It will bear examination. No alcohol and no habit-forming drugs are found in it. Some unscrupulous medicine dealers may offer you a substitute. Don't take it. Don't trifle with your health. Write to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Dr. R. V. Pierce, President, Buffalo, N. Y.,—take the advice received and be well.

Auto Racing as a Sport

DE PALMA AFTER GOLD

FAMOUS ITALIAN AUTO DRIVER TO RACE AT SPEEDWAY.

Will Drive Big Simplex Car in 500-Mile Race at Indianapolis Next Memorial Day.

Ralph De Palma, champion mile-track driver of the automobile racing season of 1910, will drive a Simplex car during the 1911 program of big events, according to the announcement by the Simplex Automobile Company. De Palma has been nominated to drive a special fifty-horsepower Simplex in the 500-mile International Sweepstakes Race at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway, on Memorial Day. This will be the first big event in which the famous Italian will participate since his recent winnings at the Los Angeles motordrome, when he was one of the star performers on the big board saucer track.

The Simplex car which De Palma will drive was one of the first to be entered in the long classic but the steel steed has been left riderless until the nomination of De Palma came to complete the entry. De Palma is preparing his car for the coming season and will bring it to Indianapolis to tune it over the brick track at once.

De Palma's nomination as a pilot in the long grind narrows the list of those great masters of the motor who are still out of the event down to one—Burman. Assurances have been received by the Speedway management that he will be in the field of starters. Burman has been doing some great work on the beach in Florida and comes north soon to prepare a car for the Sweepstakes.

It is believed highly probable that ten more entries will be added to the list of thirty-eight, and all preparations are being made for the starting of forty cars in the long race. While the foreigners are wrapped up in their own big races across the water this year, indications are that some of them will be among the starters in the Sweepstakes.

From the standpoint of the entrants the race conditions are becoming more and more interesting and alluring daily. Side offers are being made by the various accessory and supply makers, and the side money thus far hung up totals $8,300. This is in addition to the purse of $25,000 offered by the Speedway.

The Wheeler & Schebler Co., of Indianapolis, lead the side offer list in size with the "Schebler Carburetor Purse" of $2,500 for the winner of the great classic if the car's equipment includes the Schebler carburetor. The donors of the famous Wheeler & Schebler trophy have placed in the hands of the Speedway management a check for the amount, payable to "The World's Champion Automobile Driver." They state they believe the winner of this event entitled to that name.

The "Rayfield Carburetor Prizes" of $3,000 are made payable to the winners of the first four places by the Finselsen & Kropf Manufacturing Co., of Chicago, makers of the Rayfield carburetor. This purse is divided as follows: First, $2,000, second $500, third $300 and fourth $200, with the provision that the cars are Rayfield equipped. The other side offers are

If you have sore feet, tired feet, sweaty feet, lame feet, tender feet, smelly feet, corns, calluses or bunions, read what happened to Mrs. Crockett, of Jeffersonville. TIZ DID IT. Mr. Crockett says: "After the second treatment she walked downstairs one foot at a time. She has not been able to walk downstairs before in past five years, except by stepping down on each step with one foot at a time. This is remarkable. Send five more boxes."

No matter what ails your feet or what under heaven you have used without getting relief, just use TIZ. It's different. It acts right off. It cures sore feet to stay cured. It's the only foot remedy ever made which acts on the principle of drawing out all the poisonous exudations which cause sore feet. Powders and other remedies merely clog up the pores. TIZ cleans them out and keeps them clean. You will feel better the first time it's used. Use it a week and you can forget you ever had sore feet. There is nothing on earth that can compare with it. TIZ is for sale at all druggists, 25c per box, or direct, if you wish, from Walter Luther Dodge & Co., Chicago, Ill.

HOLDING BACK THE EVIDENCE

State Not Ready to Disclose Its Hand.

ARRAIGNMENT OF McNAMARAS

Will Probably Be Based Upon John Doe Warrants Alleging Minor Charges Simply as a Means of Holding Prisoners Until Such Time as Certain Points in Evidence Held by State Can Be Cleared Up.

Los Angeles, May 4.—Bringing with him, according to reports from the east, a duplicate of the confession made by Ford McNamagal in Chicago, W. J. Ford, deputy district attorney, has arrived in Los Angeles from Indianapolis, but refuses either to affirm or deny that he has it.

The deputy prosecutor evaded answering many questions. He said he would make no statement regarding his trip or the evidence he obtained until he had conferred with J. D. Fredericks, his chief, and perhaps not then.

John J. McNamara and his brother, James B. McNamara, may be arraigned this afternoon. It has developed, however, that they probably will not be charged with the dynamiting of the Times building and the killing of the twenty-one men. The prosecution wants to avoid submitting its evidence in the main case at the arraignment of the McNamaras, and therefore may resort to John Doe warrants and minor charges to hold the prisoners. It is admitted that there are some points in the evidence to be cleared up, and that if the defense got possession of it at this time it would gain an advantage.

District Attorney Fredericks declined to say what the minor charges against the McNamaras will be. "They might be charged with carrying dynamite in a public conveyance," he said.

The prosecutor went to the jail with a stenographer and for an hour talked with Ortle McManigal, apparently amplifying points in the latter's confession. Later Detective McLaren of the Burns agency and Detective Reed of the Chicago force in whose house McManigal made his first confession, took charge of the prisoner for a short time.

A dispatch received here brought news that the finger prints obtained from James B. McNamara had been received in San Francisco and are to be compared with those found on the launch Peerless, used to carry the dynamite J. B. Bryce and his associates brought from Giant to South San Francisco. Despite the confidence the defense displays that Clarence Darrow will come to Los Angeles, rumors persist that he will not. It is asserted the case, as laid before him, looks so strong against the men that he is not willing to take the defense.

DECLARED ABSURD

British Archaeologists Laugh at Weird Tale From Jerusalem.

London, May 4.—The foreign office and the Turkish embassy know nothing of the reported sacrilege and burglary in the mosque of Omar at Jerusalem. An expedition headed by M. B. Parker got a concession from Turkey in 1909 to excavate in the search for treasure supposed to have been buried by Jewish kings and for a supposed manuscript proving the resurrection of Christ. The members of the expedition worked secretly and mostly at night, that they might not awaken local fanaticism. They found valuable antiquities, but no treasure, and lately returned to England. They say that the story is absurd; that a burglary was impossible, as two Turkish officials always accompanied the explorers, and moreover the mosque is frequented by worshippers night and day. It is assumed that the story is the pure invention of anti-foreign fanatics who had learned of the excavations.

DREAMING OF RICHES

West Virginians Excited Over Discovery of Long Lost Silver Mine.

Beckley, W. Va., May 4.—Silver ore in paying quantities has been discovered on Keeney's Knob, in Greenbrier county, and there is great excitement in that section. Tradition has had it that the Indians once mined silver in that vicinity, and for years there has been a hunt for the metal. The vein of silver on Keeney's Knob was discovered by Harry Carl, manager of the Commonwealth Lumber Company. Samples sent to a Pittsburgh laboratory showed on analysis silver at the rate of 36.14 ounces a ton, with a slight trace of gold. The present price of silver is 51 cents an ounce, which would make the ore average $18.25 a ton, and traces of gold may increase this to $25 a ton.

Another Dynamite Mystery.

Carrollton, Ind., May 4.—Two hundred pounds of dynamite has been at the railroad station since last Friday, waiting for the owner, but no one has called to claim it. The box is addressed to E. L. Davis, but there is no one by that name known here. The name of the consignor does not appear on the box. Just what was the purpose in shipping it here cannot be even guessed by the officials.

THE AEROPLANE AS AN INSTRUMENT OF WAR

It Has Proved Its Case Down At San Antonio.

San Antonio, Tex., May 4.—The big Wright biplane, now the property of the United States signal corps, lifted itself out of the stop of the parade ground at the division camp, whizzed to the east, stabbed through a low-lying bank of clouds and vanished. Frank T. Coffyn, the Wright aviator instructor, sat at the controlling levers with a watch on his wrist, a compass strapped about one leg and a decorative pistol in its holster, hanging to a convenient upright. Lieutenant Benjamin B. Foulois of the aeroplane division of the signal corps, sat beside him, an open map spread across his knees and a dispatch pad handy in a leather pocket.

In just forty-seven minutes Coffyn brought his machine down within 100 feet of General Carter's tent, and Lieutenant Foulois went in to report. His message, written from the seat of the aeroplane, conveyed to the commanding general of the division the startling intelligence that the aeroplane had located an entire division of the "enemy," horse, foot and artillery, encamped twenty miles to the north. He had plotted on the map from an altitude of 400 feet the exact disposition of the enemy's forces.

Within ten minutes of the time that the big flyer skidded over the sod before General Carter's tent, word had been sent to each of the brigadier generals in the division that they were to assemble at General Carter's tent to receive orders. The springs of action were set in motion, and the first division maneuver of the mobilized army at Fort Sam Houston reservation was on.

DROVE THEM OUT

When Rebels Quarreled Among Themselves Federals Overcame Them.

El Paso, Tex., May 4.—News from Torreon is that the federals again control Lerdo and Gomez Palacio. The insurgents had trouble among themselves because the commanders refused to allow looting, and during the trouble the federals slipped in from Torreon and drove them out. Then the federals retired to Torreon and left Lerdo unoccupied again.

Twenty federals were killed Tuesday morning in Cariza canyon, thirty-five miles southeast of Mandalena, Sonora, when they tried to surprise a band of rebels, according to a special from Nogales. It is also reported from Nogales that the mining camp of El-lapic, situated near La Colorado, was captured by fifty insurgents, who took thirty guns and a quantity of ammunition.

HOPEFUL OUTLOOK

Mexican Peace Commissioners Get Together in Amicable Mood.

El Paso, Tex., May 4.—The formal meeting of peace commissioners is in progress today in a grove of trees on the west banks of the Rio Grande, north of Juarez and due west of El Paso. Judge Carabajal fully satisfied the insurgents officials that he is clothed with full power to act finally for the Mexican government, and there was no delay in getting down to business. The commissioners evidently believe that there will not be much trouble in coming to an agreement. The conference is guarded and nobody is admitted within fifty feet of where the commissioners are in session.

The Spoils of War.

Laredo, Tex., May 4.—A train over the international lines from Laredo to Mexico City was held up at Santa Maria and rebels numbering about thirty went through the express car, taking several hundred rifles and about 5,000 rounds of ammunition which were being shipped to San Luis Potosi.

Preferred Death to Insanity.

Columbus, Ind., May 4.—The coroner's inquest after the suicide of Mrs. Elizabeth Long, who hanged herself, developed that she had taken her life because she believed she was going insane.

PROFIT BY OTHERS' EXPERIENCE

Gray Hair Restored

My hair was getting quite gray and falling out rapidly and I was troubled with a terrible itching of the scalp. My head was full of dandruff, which fell upon my clothes and kept me continually brushing it off. While on a visit to Rochester I heard of your Sage and Sulphur for the hair. I got a bottle and used it. A few applications relieved the itching, my hair stopped falling out and gradually came back to its natural color. It is now a nice dark brown color, soft, glossy and pliable. Several of my friends want to use it, and I want to know what you will charge me for six bottles of it.

Grew Hair on a Bald Head

For two or three years my hair had been falling out and getting quite thin until the top of my head was entirely bald. About four months ago I commenced using Sage and Sulphur. The first bottle seemed to do some good and I kept using it regularly until now I have used four bottles. The whole top of my head is fairly covered and keeps coming in thicker. I shall keep on using it a while longer, as I notice a constant improvement.

"Big Wednesday."

Rushville's bargain day that has made more trade and has given the city more advertisement than any other plan used by merchants to attract trade here, is hanging in the balance. The life of "Big Wednesday" depends on the manner in which the business men take hold of the plan at the beginning of its second year. If the hustling merchants of the city do not jump into the lurch and make the first one what it really should be, the day is lost for Rushville and with it good volumes of trade that will travel to other cities in this vicinity by reason of the fact that business men there are holding out inducements.

There is no doubt but what "Big Wednesday" is a big advertiser and a trade getter. Business men must confess that they enjoyed rare trade on the bargain days and at the same time the people were getting the Rushville-going habit. When it becomes a habit then Rushville will have gained a regular trade that might have gone elsewhere.

Only brief plans have been made for the first bargain day this year, and it is necessary that the final details be arranged at the business men's meeting tonight. In order to give the day the proper impetus business men should attend the meeting and lend every aid possible to the good of the cause. The bargain day can not be made a success without the earnest assistance and co-operation of all of the merchants of the city. There is no reason why they should not aid since it is for their good and the good of Rushville that the day is held.

Cities adjoining Rushville have taken up the idea of attracting trade to their merchants. Shelbyville has plans for bargain days as have other cities in this vicinity largely due to the fact that Rushville made such a strong bid for the business of the entire countryside last summer. If Rushville does not continue with the "Big Wednesday" all of the good that has been accomplished will be undone. In fact, Rushville will be worse for the bargain days of last year if they are not used again this year. The attempt here has aroused merchants in other cities and has caused them to take on renewed energy in bringing trade to their respective cities.

"Big Wednesday" should live on and on.

SPRAGUE MARTYR TO LODGE SPIRIT

Newspaper Correspondent Advances New Theory For Murder of Decatur County Farmer.
SAYS NOBLE WOULD NOT WORK
Allege Sprague Said he Would Release Noble Were it Not For Fraternal Feeling.

St. Paul, the town that seems to have or wants to have a corner in all of the sensations in this vicinity, comes forth with a story in the Greensburg Democrat that has the earmarks of a "fake" speaking in newspaper parlance. It is concerning Ben Noble and the charge of murder which was preferred against him. It is on the face of a defense of Mrs. Albert Sprague, who was indirectly accused in the trial here and who was directly accused in the motion for a new trial which was filed by Noble's attorneys a few days previous to the alleged murderer's suicide in the local jail.

The St. Paul story states that friends of Mrs. Sprague who were gathering evidence in preparation for the new trial have been disposed to talk—whether or not it was for publication is not known—since the suicide. It is alleged that a neighbor of the Spragues has found that Noble killed his wife in Kentucky. It is also stated that people have been found who declare that Noble told them he intended to kill Sprague.

"These persons, in the Newberg neighborhood, had kept a hand over their mouths at the other trials for fear of being drawn into the limelight of publicity," says the St. Paul correspondent. "Noble is said to have told these parties that there would be 'something doing over at Sprague's house that would create a furore over the whole neighborhood,' and that something did."

The story advances Sprague's fraternal spirit as a reason for the murder. The explanation reads something like this:

"When Noble came to the home of Sprague he put up the appearance of being a model young man. After a short while on the Sprague farm, the latter induced him to give him his application for membership in the Odd Fellows' lodge. He consented and the application was duly received and he was made a member of the lodge. In time Noble is said to have 'laid down' on Sprague and failed to keep up with his share of the farm work. At the time Mr. Sprague was confined to his home with the measles Noble is said to have not done his duty by any means. Mr. Sprague often stated to neighbors that he would release Noble from his employ immediately if it had not been for his fraternal feelings."

The following which is in closing is a tribute to Mrs. Sprague: "Neighbors in this vicinity of the Sprague home have the fullest sympathy for Mrs. Sprague and are much incensed over reports that are scattered broadcast implicating her in the murder of her husband. They hold her perfectly guiltless."

ROYAL Baking Powder Economy

The manufacturers of Royal Baking Powder have always declined to produce a cheap baking powder at the sacrifice of quality.

Royal Baking Powder is made from pure grape cream of tartar, and is the embodiment of all the excellence possible to be attained in the highest class baking powder.

Royal Baking Powder costs only a fair price, and is more economical at its price than any other leavening agent, because of the superlative quality and absolute wholesomeness of the food it makes.

Mixtures made in imitation of baking powders, but containing alum, are frequently distributed from door to door, or given away in grocery stores. Such mixtures are dangerous to use in food. In England, France, Germany and some sections of the United States their sale is prohibited by law. Alum is a dangerous mineral acid, and all physicians condemn baking powders containing it.

The label of alum baking powders must show the ingredients.

GROUND BELONGS TO CITY

Must Not Make Garden on Proposed Street.

The police have had several complaints lately from various parts of the city about people using the city's property for garden purposes. The offense is committed where streets and sidewalks have been platted off but not yet constructed. While at present the ground is useless as far as driving over the streets is concerned, the property belongs to the city and the officials will proceed to take action against the offenders unless warning is heeded.

Arlington Christian House of Worship
Will be Just One Year Old on Sunday, May 14.

DEBT IS ERASED IN CONTEST

The basket dinner which will be held at the Arlington Christian church one week from next Sunday, which will be May 14, will be in the nature of a celebration of the first anniversary of the dedication of the church. The meeting will be a jubilee affair at which the members will also commemorate the paying off of the church debt. It was reported to the Daily Republican one day recently that the church was not yet all paid, but that has been denied by members of the church. They say that the women of the church pledged five hundred dollars and all but two hundred dollars of that amount was paid at the time the teams contested to see which could raise the most money. About four hundred and twenty dollars was raised in the contest and only two hundred dollars of that amount was necessary to wipe out the church debt. The members of the congregation are very anxious that their many friends who materially assisted them be thanked for their contributions.

AMUSEMENTS

The Portola will show the same two pictures tonight as last night. The Vitagraph, "The Inherited Taint" is a strong drama with a great moral. The other film, an Essay "The Outlaw and the Child" has some fine scenery, showing a portion of the great America Desert.

The Palace will present a Selig and Pathe film tonight. The Selig is entitled "The Padre," and is a story of the missions of old California. The Pathe, "Legally Dead," is a touching drama of human interest, full of pathos and thrills. The picture is said to be of a sensational variety. A new illustrated song will be sung.

The Star Grand presents two good pictures tonight. The first is a Powers drama entitled "What Would You Do?" The second picture is a Bison feature film entitled "The Warrior's Squaw," a purely Indian story, with two battle scenes between Sioux and Pawnee Indian tribes in which the latter meets defeat. Earl Robertson will sing "Sugar Moon."

The Vaudet will show three reels of pictures tonight, one of them containing two subjects. The Itala film has two different subjects, "A Thief Well Received," and "The Coward." Both are dramas of a high class and tell a rather pathetic story. The Imp, "A Discontented Woman" is enacted by the all-star Imp stock company. It is said to be an excellent feature picture. The Nestor, "The Man at 23" is the only comedy on the program. It is a story replete with wholesome humor that will average two laughs to the foot of film, so the management declares.

CHAPTER XVI.

THE stranger went back to New York on the same train with Kelvin. As was quite natural, he took the subway where Kelvin did and followed into the same car. He also left the train at the same uptown station, and Kelvin noticed with a frown that he followed up the street. When Kelvin and Sam turned in at their hotel, however, the man passed on, and Phillip convinced himself that the thing had been merely a coincidence. It did seem to him, however, that wherever he went recently he found some poorly dressed stranger with him, always a different man, but always having that indefinable air of being a workman out of a job.

That night the stranger in an obscure lodging house wrote a long and laboriously scrawled letter, which he afterward translated into cipher, to George Blagg at Forest Lakes, and Kelvin in his splendidly furnished apartments at the expensive Esplanade wrote a full report of his day's doings to Henry Breed, also at Forest Lakes.

Kelvin seemed to be going in rather extensively for real estate, for the morning found him poring over an immense hand drawn map of New York city whereon three large sections were blackly shaded. While he was copying some figures on a Patsy McCalken, a red faced man with a mole on his nose, was announced. To him Kelvin displayed the blot over which he had been busy and asked pertinent questions about it.

"It's no use, Mr. Kelvin," announced Mr. McCalken. "I don't know who's Behind you unless it's old Henry Breed, but the man don't live that can swing them precincts away from the big chief. And you say there's aawh'n' doin' with him."

"BUY THEM!" GASPED PELLMAN.

"But they're your precincts," objected Kelvin. "I am told that they lie in the hollow of your hand; that they vote as you tell them to the last man; that they'd follow you into the river."

Mr. McCalken only grinned. "Anyhow, there's no chance on earth, no matter how much was—no matter how strong the arguments that might be held out."

"All right, then," concluded Kelvin briskly. "If you can't swing that district to my principal I'll have to take it away from you."

Mr. McCalken's grin became a guffaw. "When you do that," said he, taking his hat. "I'll say you're a bigger man than Dick Croker ever was."

"We expect to make Mr. Croker a bit and faded memory of ineffectiveness," announced Kelvin, smiling and looking at his watch.

His next caller was of a different type. "Hello, Pellman," said Phillip heartily, coming forward to shake hands with him. "It's as good to see you as it was to hear your voice over the phone the other day. How are things coming with you?"

"Rotten, thank you," confessed Pellman, with a wry smile. "I don't mind

'Cascarets' Best for Biliousness

The Millions of Cascaret Users Never Know the Misery of Headache, Coated Tongue or Sick Stomach.

You know when you need Cascarets. You feel a certain dullness and depression—perhaps the approach of a headache. You say "I am bilious and I must take something tonight." But why do you waste the day? It is easy to keep at your best at all times if you'll do it. The way is to carry a box of Cascarets with you. Take one just as soon as you need it. Then the clouds rise at once.

The need for Cascarets is a natural need. Don't think that you are drugging yourself. We must get a laxative some way. If we don't get it through exercise and through proper foods, we must get it otherwise. Cascarets are the next best way.

Ask your doctor about it. He will tell you that the day of the violent purgatives, such as calomel, pills, salts, castor oil and cathartics, is past. This is the day of the gentle in medicine, the natural, the pleasant. Cascarets act just as certain foods act—just as exercise acts—on the bowels—on the liver. Get a 10 cent box and take one now.

admitting that you broke me so completely I can't start anything big enough to inspire confidence."

"Would it inspire any confidence if you were known to be engineering the most enormous real estate deal ever consummated in New York?"

Pellman's eyes began to brighten. "It would have to be a big one," he warned.

"Would you call it a big one to buy these districts?" And Kelvin indicated the three shaded spots on his map.

"Buy them," gasped Pellman. He barely glanced at the map and then surveyed Kelvin in astonishment. "Why, man!" He paused. Words were lame things.

"Well, I want them," declared Kelvin. "The reason I have sent for you is that I must not appear in this, even by the slightest hint, nor must Mr. Breed. Do you care to undertake the deal for immediate manipulation?"

"Well," returned Pellman, "I don't think I could start at it in much less than thirty minutes."

In less than an hour after Pellman had gone Senator Sawyer found Kelvin busy over another large map, this time of the United States. Here and there districts were lightly shaded, in other places they were cross-hatched, in others left in pure white. The senator was gravely glad to see his dear young friend, Mr. Kelvin; gravely anxious about his physical condition and as gravely solicitous about the health of his dear old friend, Mr. Henry Breed.

"As for myself," Kelvin smilingly informed him, "I shall leave you to judge. As for Mr. Breed, he is hearty enough to desire myself and Mr. Rollins nominated for the offices respectively of president and vice president of the United States by your party at the convention this coming spring."

"Am I to understand that you are in earnest about this?" the senator painfully inquired.

"Certainly," replied Kelvin calmly.

"As earnest as we were about breaking up Mr. Hepperdon's monopoly."

Mr. Sawyer winced. He had once been Hepperdon's chief senator and had only recently, upon the unfortunate dissolution of Mr. Hepperdon's combine, associated himself with Mr. Breed.

"We have every prospect of success," Kelvin evenly resumed. "In the first place, as the absolute proprietor of every ounce of bread and cereal food-stuff in the United States, Mr. Breed had a great many friends and useful advisers among the various legislative bodies of the country." Senator Sawyer gravely nodded his head. "In the second place, after he had secured control over every mile of railroad in the United States, Mr. Breed took a notion to do a little trust busting which proved highly successful, and thereupon he became possessed by reason of his immense anchorage facilities of several other suddenly attached friends, and useful advisers. Quite a little army, senator."

"Ye-es," slowly admitted Mr. Sawyer, with great mournfulness.

The senator had been harboring quite other plans than those proposed by Kelvin.

"You will find, senator," went on Kelvin, "that the campaign is perfectly mapped out. I wish to remain, as does Mr. Rollins, an ostensible dark horse up to the very hour of the nomination, and your operations will need to be as quietly conducted as possible. Our headquarters will comprise private apartments for yourself and such others as you care to have with you, and all living expenses will, of course, go in with the other items of expenditure. There will naturally be a generous honorarium attached. I shall be highly gratified if you will take charge of the bureau, as will Mr. Breed and Mr. Rollins."

Mr. Breed's request, coming through Kelvin, was an order. "The entire matter comes as a surprise to me," said the senator, "but as a very pleasant surprise. I can see a most interesting campaign stretching before us, and it will afford me keen delight if I can in any way contribute to the success of two such remarkable young men as yourself and Mr. Rollins."

Herbert Rensselaer called beavering the fact that his revered aunt was cheerfully sacrificing the absurdly large salary which she denied that she received to make a dwaddler out of him because a Rensselaer must not work. "I am supposed to repay her by marrying the aforesaid Lillian, who doesn't know it yet," he said. "Honestly, Kelvin, if something doesn't turn up upon which I may expend a little man power energy I'll explode by and by."

"Just possess your soul in patience," advised Kelvin, smiling. "Wait until I am elected president, and I'll make a cabinet officer of you."

"Nonsense," protested Herbert. "I have no qualifications, old chap."

"Yes, but you have," insisted Kelvin, speaking quite seriously. "You cannot be influenced, coerced or bought."

Young Rensselaer suddenly straightened up. "You are right," said he with a snap of his jaws, "and you may bet your last penny upon it that I'll carry out your orders absolutely, wherever you put me, whether in the cabinet or at the head of an army."

"You might even have a chance at that," returned Kelvin dryly. Rensselaer departed and Rollins came in.

"I have a brilliant solution for your Long Island transportation problem," he began with enthusiasm. "I can deliver commuter trains to your farthest point if it does not exceed the eighty-five mile run you promised in one hour from the bridge subway station."

Kelvin nodded in satisfaction. "I knew you could work it out," he commented. "I'll have the necessary permits in two weeks, and you can begin construction at once. In the meantime let me show you a new map." And from the thick pile of such diagrams upon his desk he drew one showing the entire consolidated railroad system of the United States. "Rollins, in your mastery of every mile of railroad in the United States you have the most powerful political engine ever devised by man."

"I don't like it to be prostituted to this use," protested Rollins.

"The same old cry," returned Kelvin, with a slightly exasperated laugh. "You ought to be satisfied. I don't know how many millions of graft you have eliminated. You've equalized freight rates so that the small shipper has an equal chance with the big one. You've been able to break up a score of top heavy monopolies and trusts. You've accomplished at least half your designs."

"I know," granted Rollins; "but, even so, I have been compelled for political reasons to give rebates which I had sworn I would never give. I have been compelled for political purposes to make concessions which I had sworn I would never make."

"You're the most persistent chap," complained Kelvin. "When we have a congress and a senate of our own choice we can carry out all the Utopian plans of both Breed and ourselves. These concessions that you are making are only investments, as Breed would say."

Rollins looked up curiously. "I don't quite understand Breed," said he. "He seems at times to possess all his old shrewdness, but at other times to be involved in a maze of mysticism."

"Kelvin frowned. "He's spending too much time with his Bible," he declared. "He's intemperate with it."

Kelvin, returning shortly after midnight from his evening with Rensselaer, went directly to his own sleeping apartment, which was at the extreme end of his suite. Sam, crouching on the floor in the corner with pillows and cushions at his back, opened his coal black eyes unblinkingly, passing instantly from profound sleep to alert wakefulness. Kelvin having by this time sat down, Sam removed his Particularly the Ladies.

Not only pleasant and refreshing to the taste, but gently cleansing and sweetening to the system, Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna is particularly adapted to ladies and children, and beneficial in all cases in which a wholesome, strengthening and effective laxative should be used. It is perfectly safe at all times and dispels colds, headaches and the pains caused by indigestion and constipation so promptly and effectively that it is the one perfect family laxative which gives satisfaction to all and is recommended by millions of families who have used it and who have personal knowledge of its excellence.

Its wonderful popularity, however, has led unscrupulous dealers to offer imitations which act unsatisfactorily. Therefore, when buying, to get its beneficial effects, always note the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—plainly printed on the front of every package of the genuine Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna.

master's shoes and placed comfortable slippers on his feet. While he was at work he looked up with a sudden shrill chuckle and a grin so wide that it broke into queer curves the long, straight scar on his cheek.

"What are you laughing at, Sam?" asked Phillip.

"Oh, jes' nothin'," declared Sam, and chuckled still more.

"I bet you are thinking of Lucy," charged Phillip.

"Ah reckon Ah am," confessed Sam, with a laugh that ended in a shrill falsetto. "Lucy an' sumpin' else."

"Something else, eh? What is it?"

"Ah ain' done s'pose to tell," giggled Sam. "Got t' have a secret once in awhile, boss."

Sam busied himself about the remaining preparations for Kelvin's retiring and while he did so gave vent to occasional chuckles, to which, however, Kelvin paid but little attention, for already he was immersed in that half hour of revel in the vast gilded halls of the future which was his one habitual dissipation before retiring, and he scarcely realized when Sam had departed for the night so occupied was he with his boundless enterprises and ambitions. Olympus! With that height alone would he be content, and he had no bodily or spiritual, mental or moral clog to weight him down.

In his exultation he rose to his full height, obeying an instinct which impelled him to stand that he might feel the superb strength of his body and of his soul and of his will untrammelled by any weakening support. As he did so the slight and cautious click of a knob and the slight, careful creak of a door startled him. He turned hastily in the direction from which the sounds had come. The end door of his suite was the customary twin affair by which hotel apartments are separated. On taking these apartments he had tried his own door and found it locked, but nevertheless it was this door which was opening.

LIQUID CURES ECZEMA WHERE SALVE FAILS

In regard to skin diseases medical authorities are now agreed on this:

Don't imprison the disease germs in your skin by the use of greasy salves, and thus encourage them to multiply. A true cure of all eczematous diseases can be brought about only by using the healing agents in the form of a liquid.

WASH THE GERMS OUT. A simple wash: A compound of Oil of Wintergreen, Thymol, and other ingredients as combined in the D. D. D. Prescription, penetrates to the disease germs and destroys it, then soothes and heals the skin as nothing else has ever done.

A 25-cent trial bottle will start the cure, and give you instant relief.

SAGE FOR DARKENING THE HAIR.

There is nothing new about the idea of using sage for restoring the color of the hair. Our great-grandmothers kept their locks soft, dark and glossy by using a "sage tea." Whenever their hair fell out or took on a dull, faded or streaked appearance, they made a brew of sage leaves and applied it to their hair with wonderfully beneficial effect. Nowadays we don't have to resort to the old-time, tiresome method of gathering the herbs and making the brew. This is done by skillful chemists better than we could do it ourselves, and all we have to do is to call for the ready made product. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, containing sage in the proper strength, with the addition of Sulphur, another old-time scalp remedy. This preparation is sold by all first-class druggists for 50c, and $1.00 a bottle, or is sent direct by the Wyeth Chemical Company, 74 Cortlandt St., New York City, upon receipt of price.

EXPLOSION DUE TO BLACK HAND

At Least This Is Theory of Gary Police.

TWO KILLED AND MANY INJURED

Dynamite Was Set Off Underneath Two Box Cars in Which a Score or More of Italian Laborers Were Sleeping in the Steel City—Black Hand Believed to Have Been Responsible.

Gary, Ind., May 4.—When unknown persons dynamited two box cars standing in the Kirk railway yards, in which a number of Italian laborers, employees of the American Bridge company, were sleeping, Chicago Black Hand outrages were transferred to Gary and as a result two men were killed and a score of others injured.

The injured are being cared for at the United States Steel corporation's emergency hospital. The bodies of Benedetto Aglio and Giagamo Impastato, both terribly mangled, were taken by the police to the morgue.

The dynamiting was accompanied by a deafening roar which awakened laborers sleeping in other box cars. When the smoke cleared away it was found that the ends of two adjoining cars were wrecked and near these the bodies of the two men were found.

The men who slept in the cars were severely injured and when the steel corporation's private police arrived on the ground they found the injured victims groaning and uttering imprecations against the Black Hand. Rivalry between Chicago labor agents is also advanced by the Gary police as another possible clue to the outrage.

The victims of the explosion were hired through Joe Macaluso's labor agency. Because of his success in this line Macaluso has incurred the enmity of the Black Hand and he himself has twice been the victim of dynamite plots.

BOY IN BERRY PATCH

Was Shot by Irate Farmer, Against Whom Jury Assesses Damages.

Hammond, Ind., May 4.—That a farmer is not justified in firing a load of shot at a boy whom he found in his strawberry patch is the verdict of a jury in the Lake county superior court. Henry Gruel, aged twelve, got into Gilbert Isaacson's berry patch. The farmer fired at the lad with a double-barreled shotgun and one hundred shots penetrated the boy's skin. He was disabled six months and the jury gave him $25 damages.

He Missed the Rat.

Petersburg, Ind., May 4.—Orla Gray, a young farmer of Jefferson township, was amusing himself shooting rats in his corn crib. John Sullivan passed as Gray fired and the shot struck Sullivan's horse in the eye. Gray paid $25 to the owner of the horse and turned the rat killing over to his dog.

Drowned Himself in Pond.

Mt. Vernon, Ind., May 4.—Despondent over ill health and the loss of his wife, Frank Luderman, aged sixty, a farmer living at Parker settlement, drowned himself in a pond on his farm.

WERE WAITING FOR THE WORD

Ohio Legislators Evidently Expecting Indictment.

HAD BONDS ALL PREPARED

Probe Into Nasty Legislative Scandal in Ohio's Capital Has Resulted in the Indictment of Five Members of General Assembly and an Under-trapper, and the Detectives Say the Worst is Yet to Come.

Columbus, O., May 4.—For soliciting bribes five members of the Ohio general assembly have been indicted by the grand jury. One legislative attaché was indicted for aiding and abetting in the solicitation. Although the names of only four had been mentioned in the newspapers in advance, all five of them were in a lawyer's office when the grand jury reported. They immediately went to the courthouse and furnished bond. Their arraignment will come tomorrow.

Other features in the developments included the appointment of an entirely new steering committee in the house. The old one was depleted by resignations. Dr. George B. Nye of Pike county was the last to hand in his resignation. Six other members of the committee had deserted him, and when their resignations came up for consideration a motion was made to accept that of Nye, although it had not been offered.

Nye, who had caused the arrest of Burns detectives on charges of bribing him, was among those indicted. His bond was placed at $10,000, as also was that of Sergeant Dyegle, of Erie county, alleged go-between. Dyegle, it was reported, was about to confess, but when asked if he had been promised immunity, declared that he had nothing to confess. In addition to Nye one other representative was indicted, A. C. Lowrey of Lawrence county, son-in-law of Colonel H. A. Harting, a rich manufacturer. Lowrey, like Nye, is a doctor.

There were three senators indicted: George K. Cetone of Montgomery county, a fruit grower; Isaac E. Huffman of Butler county, lawyer and former school teacher; L. R. Andrews of Lawrence county, attorney. The bonds of all save Nye and Dyegle were fixed at $5,000. Andrews and Lowrey, both of whom hail from Lawrence county, are Republicans, the others Democrats.

Friends of Speaker Vining rallied to his support and put through a vote of confidence in the house after he had named a new calendar committee, composed of high-class men, against whom there has been no suspicion. It had been reported that progressives would seek to force the retirement of the speaker, who is a Democrat, but Republican Floor Leader Lawrence K. Langdon of Warren county disclaimed any such effort on the part of Republicans. Langdon and Price Russell of Wayne county, the Democratic floor leader, were both reappointed to the calendar committee, although both at first declined to accept the job.

It is said that startling confessions involving many members of the legislature are in possession of William J. Burns, head of the detective agency employed to uncover graft in the legislature. It was learned that some of those implicated in the boodle disclosures were weakening and are now ready to tell Burns the truth about the corrupt practices.

At least one legislator is said to have asked to tell his story to Governor Harmon. That the governor will absolutely refuse to take a hand to save anyone is apparent from the firm stand he is taking to bring every grafter to justice. County detectives are keeping a close watch on the implicated legislators to see that none of them attempts to leave the city. Immediate arrests would follow any such attempt. The probing is going back as far as possible and ex-members are not exempt.

TELLS MORE OF LAND PROJECT

Prescott (Ariz.) Journal-Miner Rehearses Story of Reclamation Deal.

BIGGEST DEAL IN THAT STATE

Many More Details of Plan to Convert Lonesome Valley Into Fertile Fields.

The Prescott (Ariz.) Journal-Miner tells of a land deal in Lonesome valley, in which James E. Watson of this city, and Colonel E. P. Thayer of Greenfield are said to be the moving figures, with a syndicate of eastern capitalists as backers. The proposition, the Prescott newspaper says, involves the reclamation, by water storage and irrigation, of 32,000 acres in Lonesome valley. The deal is described as one of the heaviest recorded in the history of Arizona. Watson and Thayer have visited Prescott frequently to inspect the land purchased.

The land was bought from the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe Railway Company. The line of the S. F. P. & P. railroad traverses the tract for twelve miles. Along with the deal for 32,000 acres are options for other lands, including the Wynkoop ranch of nine hundred acres. This land, it is said, holds the outlet to Willow creek, and is the key to the water storage proposition.

A large dam is to be built near where Willow creek empties into the Granite creek. The storage reservoir will cover a territory of one and a half by two miles in extent. A diversion dam is to be built on the Ft. Whipple reservation, two miles distant. This will be joined to the main storage reservoir by a concrete lined canal. It is estimated the cost of the work will be $1,000,000, exclusive of land option prices.

It is said work will be started at once on preliminary construction for the largest impounding attempt since the Roosevelt dam project. Early in the enterprise a school of agriculture is to be opened near the site of the reclamation work. Experts have asserted, according to the Prescott newspaper account, that the soil in the district to be reclaimed holds unlimited possibilities. It is said Col. E. P. Thayer is to have charge of the work at Prescott.

ARRIVES IN INDIANA

Robert E. Mansfield Was in Indianapolis Calling on Friends.

Robert E. Mansfield, consul general for the United States at Zurich, Switzerland, is home for his biennial leave of absence, and was meeting old friends in Indianapolis yesterday, says the Indianapolis Star. Mr. Mansfield is one of the most efficient men in the consular service, and his reports are among the most valuable that issue from the Government Printing Office. An excellent example of Mr. Mansfield's work in this line was the article on automobiles in Switzerland in last Sunday's issue of the Star.

MILROY EXERCISES FRIDAY.

The commencement exercises of the Milroy high school will be held in the Auditorium in that place tomorrow evening at eight o'clock. The address will be delivered by E. G. Bunnell, assistant to the State superintendent. Stevens Orchestra of Glenwood will furnish the music.

MANY PLOWS GOING.

Probably more plows were going in this county today than on any other day this spring. The ground is still wetter than it ought to be for plowing, but the long delay because of rain has made the farmers anxious, and on nearly every farm in the whole vicinity every available horse, plow and plowman was kept busy from early morning till dusk.

We Warn You Not to Wait!

Surely you must see that it is to your advantage to do this. Come in and look over those beautiful new models we recently received—for
